Soaring towers, continued from page 12

Nevertheless, she reports it to the DeRidder forestry station and she is told there will be an airplane patrol that afternoon.

"If it was a wildfire, it would already be about a half-mile long. After you've been at one place a good while, you can just about judge when you've got a fire," Mary said.

High atop her little perch above the tree line, a hundred feet off the ground, Mary says it takes a special kind of person to handle the solitary life of a tower person.

"If you can get along with yourself. If you can occupy your time without it driving you completely nuts, then why not?" says Mary.

Bat Thompson, a 62-year-old tower sentinel at Hicks in Vernon Parish has been climbing the towers for 22 years. Together with her eight years of public school experience, she has more than 30 years of service to the state.

The fire tower ladies generally like things to be quiet during their watch, but both have had their share of unusual occurrences.

"I heard a helicopter coming out of the Fort Polk firing range and I said, 'Oh, Lord, it's fixing to crash.' They were still sitting in the door where they had a gun mounted and they were shooting as they came across here. That liked to have scared me to death," Bat recounted. "They couldn't have been real bullets. It had to have been blanks they were shooting. They went on across the highway still shooting."

Mary said she has only been scared three times when she was in the tower.

"Once lighting struck out of the clear blue sky," Mary says. "Another time three drunks climbed up the tower and I was afraid I wouldn't be able to hold the trap door hard enough because I was a skinny Minnie in those days. The other time when I slipped on the icy steps and almost fell out."

Like Mary, Bat's main duty is to be on the lookout for smoke and fire although there has been time for personal reflection during the many hours she has spent high above the ground.

"I know what kind of person I am because I have a lot of time to sit and think about it," says Bat. "Tower sitting has made me a better person, a more religious person because I have had some time to read my Bible."

However, the vast majority of times, the two fireguards are watching the horizon.

"If there's a bad fire you put everything down and watch," Mary said. "You're constantly looking, especially in the winter, which is our fire season, because of all the dropped pine needles. You have more fire fuel on the ground."

Mary even said there was fire right below her.

"Oh, sure," she laughed. "There was one right in the tower yard one time at Longville. The crew put it right out."

Currently, the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry is shifting the fire detection emphasis away from towers to airplanes. Most likely when Mary and Bat retire they will not be replaced.

Mary says retirement is not too far off for her.

"If I'm physically able to continue I will, but I'm sorry they are getting rid of the fire towers. An airplane is a wonderful thing, but if you've got someone in a fire tower everyday, all day, the airplane can't fly everyday, all day. And you've got the personal touch."

Some of the crewmembers are near tears. They realize immediately they are out of the competition for the weekend.

Timidly I ask, "Can I get out the balloon now?"

Kevin and Mike contact George, the owner of the balloon, who appears on the scene shortly. Quickly surveying the trouble he says, "Pull it down," but the balloon remains firmly in the sticky clutches of the oak.

George, glued to the phone, lines up help from the fire department.

I am busily snapping pictures although I am rationing my shots since my camera memory is low.

"No pictures," Mike says sardonically.

The ground wind has picked up considerably and now I am struck by the horrible ripping sound the silk-like material makes as it rips and flutters in the breeze.

I see Kevin and George discussing the events. George later tells me the rip is not a big problem and normally it could have been repaired by the afternoon if he wasn't so busy with the event.

Soon a Baton Rouge Fire Department ladder truck rumbles onto the scene and extends a long helping hand to free the balloon. Even though I have boldly gone where I have never gone before, I'm glad I'm not the one to have to climb up that skinny little ladder swaying in the breeze.

The following Saturday at the balloon glow, I spy my young pilot in the pin booth where an array of colorful ballooning pins has been set up.

Kevin tells me the FAA has ruled his situation as an incident, not an accident. He is volunteering for a pilot who arrived in town without a crew. I nod and look at the pins in the display case. I see one that is perfect for the occasion.

"Here, Kevin. I bought this pin for you." It's a small facsimile of a balloon with a slogan that rhymes with "it happens" imprinted on it. After all, it does happen.

I'm eternally grateful 'it' did not happen 300 feet up.

Agriculture & Forestry Today with Commissioner Bob Odom

More than $1.2 million in federal funds has made its way to Louisiana catfish farmers as part of the Agricultural Assistance Act of 2003, Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom announced.

"Top Water Feed Mill, Three Rivers Farm Supply Inc., Rangen Inc., Valley Farmers Co-op Inc., Cargill and Delta Western have all been sent funds for feed credits," Odom said. "Because the catfish farmers selected these mills as locations to set up their feed credits, they will distribute feed to the farmers in Louisiana who qualify for the program."

Eighty Louisiana catfish farmers have qualified to participate. There were about 89 catfish farmers in the state last year.

Once a farmer has qualified, there is no expiration date on the feed credits.

"The farmers can use them on this year's feed or they may choose to use their credits later," Odom explained.

The feed credits are part of the Agricultural Assistance Act of 2003 that authorized an expanded version of the Livestock Compensation Program to include catfish. The credits are for the 2002 catfish season.

Under federal guidelines, catfish farmers will be eligible to receive feed credits from participating feed mills in 2003 based on their individual fee invoices for 2002. No direct money will go to the catfish farmers.

The federal disaster funds are coming to the state on the heels of one of the worst years catfish farmers have endured in decades. Pond bank prices for farm-raised catfish were at their lowest levels in 10 years in 2002. Louisiana catfish pond acreage stood at 12,696 last year, down more than 5 percent from 2001. Harvested value of $35.7 million was down more than 10 percent from 2001.

"Louisiana was allotted nearly $1.8 million as part of its share of the $34 million available nationally," Odom said. "Right now there is still about $200,000 available."

COOKERY

Fun Tailgating Treats

Football Spread

- 1 can cooked chicken, shredded
- 1 (16 ounce) package cream cheese (softened)
- 4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- Pinch of salt/pepper to taste
- Creole seasoning to taste

Combine all ingredients. Serve on crackers, bread or corn chips.

Yogurt Cheese

- 4 cups plain low fat yogurt
- 1 clove garlic, finely minced
- 2 tablespoons parsley, finely minced
- 1 teaspoon each minced thyme, oregano, tarragon
- 1/2 teaspoon Creole seasoning

Rinse a long length of cheesecloth (about 1 foot) in cold water, and wring out. Place yogurt in the center, wrap cloth around it, place in a strainer or colander in a bowl. Refrigerate until thick, 8-14 hours or up to 24 hours. Discard whey (liquid), unwrap cheese. Place in a mixing bowl, mix thoroughly with garlic, parsley, herbs, seasonings. Serve with crackers or fresh vegetables. Serves 16.

Cheese Dip

- 2 tubes sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 tube Jalapeno pepper cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
- 1/2 cup beer

Mix all ingredients together in a saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1-2 minutes. Pour hot cheese mixture into a hollowed round loaf of bread. Serve with bread chunks or chips.

Beef-Pepper Spread

- | | |
|---|----------------------|
| 2 8 oz. packages cream cheese, softened | 1/2 teaspoon pepper |
| 2 (2 1/2 ounce) jars chipped beef | 1/2 cup sour cream |
| 1/2 cup bell pepper, chopped | Chopped pecans |
| 4 tablespoons chopped onion | 4 tablespoons butter |
| 4 tablespoons milk | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon garlic salt or powder | |

Mix cream cheese, chipped beef, bell pepper, onion, milk, garlic salt, pepper, sour cream and 2 cups chopped pecans. Put into baking dish. Heat 1 cup chopped pecans, butter and salt until crispy; use as topping for cream cheese mixture. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve with crackers.

Black-Eyed Pea Dip

- | | |
|--|--|
| 3 (12oz.) cans of black-eyed peas, drained | 2 (12 oz.) cans of whole artichokes, chopped |
| 1/2 cup mayonnaise | 12 oz of shredded Monterey Jack cheese |
| 1/2 cup sour cream | Salt & Pepper to taste |
| 2 packages ranch dressing mix | |

Mix black-eyed peas, artichokes, sour cream, mayonnaise, ranch dressing mix and salt and pepper in a casserole dish. Cover and heat in a 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. Take out of oven and put cheese on top, cover and cool off. Once you get to the tailgate heat back up while stirring often. Serve with scoop tortillas, or large wheat Thins crackers.

Corn Chowder

- 1 pound bacon
- 1 pound finely chopped onions (use food processor)
- 3-4 pounds potatoes, peeled and diced
- 2 quarts corn
- 2 cans evaporated milk
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Several dashes of hot sauce

Dice bacon and cook until crisp; drain off portion fat. Add onion. Cook until soft, but not browned. Add diced potatoes, cover with hot water and cook until tender. Add corn and salt and pepper to season. Add evaporated milk and heat through. Makes about 2 gallons.

Shrimp Coleslaw

- 1 head green cabbage, shred very thin
- 1 medium white onion, chopped
- Salt & Pepper
- 1 can tiny shrimp (rinse and drain)
- Mayonnaise as needed for blending

Shred cabbage very thin. Add chopped onion, salt and pepper to taste. Add shrimp. Toss with fork. Cover and chill 1 hour. Add 3 tablespoons mayonnaise; toss with fork. Cover and chill 3 hours before serving.
